11. [ ] Senator Eugene McCarthy visited the Agency for a breakfast meeting. Present were the Director, Deputy Director, DD/P and John S. Warner. Senator McCarthy seemed friendly and relaxed. He discussed a bit his travel to Europe and visits to the two radios. Senator McCarthy stated that he did not believe that the Joint Committee for Intelligence idea would go anywhere this year. He stated there were two other ideas which might receive consideration. The first involved a Select Committee to investigate whether the Joint Committee thought was valid. If this were to move presumably the Agency would be called during hearings. The other possibility would be one involving consideration of transfer of jurisdiction of CIA from Armed Services to Foreign Relations. The Senator stated he did not know whether Senator Fulbright would wish to push this. The Senator stated he would welcome our thoughts on these proposals.
